The Wisdom Of The Bhagavad Gītā

An Indian classic: a timeless guide for life

Saturday 10th June 2017

14.00 – 15.30

Aldous Huxley said that the Bhagavad Gītā ‘is one of the most clear and comprehensive summaries of perennial philosophy ever revealed; hence its enduring value is subject not only to India but to all of humanity.’ Albert Einstein said ‘When I read the Bhagavad- Gītā and reflect about how God created this universe everything else seems so superfluous.’

In this talk, Stephen Silver will attempt to show why this ancient text has such appeal to modern scientists and philosophers from East and West; and how it can be a practical guide for life for each of us today.

Speaker: Stephen Silver, a retired IT Project Manager, has been a student of philosophy for over 40 years. He is currently in charge of Practical Philosophy Berkshire, a branch of the School of Economic Science, an educational charity and centre for spiritual development promoting the philosophy of Advaita, non-duality. He has a particular love for the Bhagavad Gītā, which he finds inspiring, helpful, challenging and demanding in equal measure.
