WINDOWS INTO HEAVEN:

Understanding Russian Icons

Saturday 2nd September 2017

10.15 – 15.30

This day workshop will look at some important examples of Russian Icon painting, and demonstrate how to decode Icon symbolism. We will examine some of the key biblical episodes focussed on by icon painters, while considering use of colour and composition in the portrayals. There will be time to contemplate key painters and miraculous stories associated with icons, as well as their use within homes and in Orthodox churches.

Speaker: Frances Eley is a lecturer in Classics and Archaeology for the Open University, with particular research interests in ancient Mystery Religions.
